Dunfermline – Pittencreiff

The second show of the year saw us take part in the Bruce Festival with six other groups of various descriptions.

With the rising sun on Saturday a long lost friend of the group was found, riveted chainmail has made reappearance in our inventory. Not wishing to name names but one of our group members seemed to have ended up with it, Richard *cough cough*.

We managed with experience and speed to set up the camp in quick fashion, tents the correct way round no more of these inside-out tents for us.

The shows kicked off at twelve and we survived through till four both days. The jousts joust, the birds of prey prayed and the living history groups lived history.

Shocking the weather once again held sunny for the majority of the days, making the fighting exhaustingly fun as always.

Hugh Robertson thanked all the group for an excellent show over the two days. So well done all who managed to make it
